THE CHALLENGE

Goes Unanswered! The Puny Attempt of the Court House Gang Unmasked!

The false charge of democratic grand juries, democratic petit juries, or democratic juries of any character in the circuit court, has been exploded The record each time discloses that the juries that were assaulted as partisan were republicans. Now we make the further challenge!

Name one, just one republican who has been indicted in Judge Gordon's court by a partisan grand jury, who should not have been.

Name one, just one democrat who has escaped indictment in Judge Gordon's court by reason of a partisan jury, who should have been indicted. Name one, just one republican who has been convicted in Judge Gordon's court by reason of partisan jury who should have been acquitted. Name one, just one democrat who has been acquitted by reason of parsisan jury in Judge Gordon's court, who should have been convicted.

Name one, just one democrat who has won a civil case in Judge Gor don's court by reason of a partisan jury, who should have lost it.

Name one, just one republican who has lost a civil case in Judge Gorcourt by reason of a partisan jury, who should have won it.

Now, if partisan juries existed as you have charged, for the purpose of dering such dishonest verdicts, it seems to us that, as the record still exists, you could disclose them. If you fail to do so, it is an open admisthat all your assaults upon this court of partisan juries and partisan licts are false, and used to try to arouse political malice in the coming tion. It shows that you are willing to attempt to disgrace the courts astice in order to win the election. It shows that you would pollute the stream of justice with political hate in order to achieve success. I s that you would attempt to arouse in the minds of your followers belief in order to get their ballots on election day. It shows that ing is sacred between you and success, when it stands in your way. If challenges go unanswered, if no verdict you can find to sustain them, the people of this county will believe the charges made are false, cow-

The above challenges were made in the last week's issue of the PRESS, essed to the slanderers of our courts of justice, calling upon them, de ding of them to name such case, if any existed. They answer in the ord in startling headlines "An instance where the Jury of the Demoe Stripe Lent itself for Partisan Purpose." And it continues in the of the article in the following language. "Now, you say you want us ame one man who was wrongfully indicted by a partisan grand jury. will name Judge Towery." To this slanderer of the court, to this libel justice, we here give the concluding part of Judge Towery's signed

"I feel that it is proper to make the further statement that I know the les who did bring about the indictment, and who were enemies within own party, seeking to defeat me in my most cherished hope of a renom ion by my own party for county judge. This Oct. 10, 1905. Aaron

We also quote from Judge Towery's letter in the last week's issue of Record in which he states, and challenges the court house gang to dis that the republican members voted in the grand jury room for his inment. So after the court house gang has gone over the hundreds thousands of cases which have been tried in the Circuit Court, the juries have retired for deliberation, and returned their verdicts, and out of bese cases, out of all these trials they present to an expectant and ex public, to sustain their slander of our courts, this lone case and say it was a democratic jury which visited the wrong upon Judge Towery. e Towery answers you, himself, and rising above political malice, standut in the open light, he accuses members of his own party-the repubparty, of procuring his indictment, and members of the republican as having voted for it. What motive could the democrats have to in-Judge Towery, before the republican primary? If they had desired dictment, and in partismship were going to procure it, they would waited until the June term of court, after he was nominated by his indictment before the republican primary? All men answer and say the Commonwealth Attorney without challenge to a single member. Then you court house gang. And your presentation of this lone case, out of all cases attempt to say that Wm. Boaz was the case referred to. Wm. Boaz was inthat have been tried in this court, as a single exception, of the action of a dicted by the above grand jury, and his case was dismissed by the Commonpartisan jury, is completely and fully exploded by Judge Towery, himself. wealth Attorney after the testimony was all heard. No verdict was ever Yet, creeping out in the same article is the real spirit that procurred his reodered in it, Not a speech was ever made to the jury, but Mr. Grayot indictment, for in that article the Record uses this language: "But Carl dismissed it. You come with your last declaration that Judge Towery was Henderson never told him to sign the county surveyor's name, and it is a indicted by a partisan jury, and as the above shows from Judge Towery's fact that Sullenger never called to sign his name to the certificate, nor did own pen and the Record's own admissions, the republicans procured it. So Sullenger's cross examination state that he authorized him to sign his name. it is not to be wondered at that your conscience, seared as it is, will relax He stated that part of his outfit was left in Judge Towery's office, and that to the truth to some extent, and allow you to withdraw partially your maniin one instance that the Judge had signed his name, but he said he never fold slanders upon this court by saying "you did not charge that juries are authorized him to sign it to the certificate in question." This is a plain being used in very many cases for partisan purposes in this county."

him to come in and sign the paper (referring to the land papers) and Sullen- cess at the election. ger said he did not have time, as he was going home, and that it would be all right for Towery to sign his name.

Verifying this statement of the testimony we quote from Judge Towery's letter, bearing his own signature, appearing in the same sheet, The Crittenden Record, which makes the charge of forgery against him: "At Mr. Henderson's own request I wrote up the certificate and waited for the County Surveyor to call in and sign same, which he, Sullenger, stated on cross examination that he authorized him to do and ratified same after it was done.

Why does the Record persist in charging Judge Towery with forgery? If the facts you charge against him are true, that Sullenger did not authorized him to sign his name, then it would be impossible for Judge Towery to have been acquitted upon peremptory instructions. But the Court gave peremtory instructions upon the testimony of Sullenger, himself, that he authorized Judge Towery to sign his name, and Sullenger admitted that he had failed to tell the grand jury that fact, because he was not asked that

This charge in the Record against Judge Towery discloses the real hand that was shaping the indictment against him. You were his willing defender when you thought you could decieve the public and make the people believe that it was a partisan indictment brought about by democrats. These are the tracks of the same clique that manipulated the primary, who now turn npon Judge Towery, saying in one place that his indictment was a partisan one, and in another in the same paper, that he committed acts which were indictable, viz, signing Sullenger's name without authority. But, what does the court house gang care for Judge Towery's reputation? They continue their libels upon him after he has been acquitted by a jury and exhonerated by the court. What do they care if in coming years this printed accusation of forgery made against him may be resurected to confront

Will the people of Crittenden county sustain this gang in their efforts to destroy character; who defeated Judge Towery at the polls by methods that were so dark and devious that to describe them or properly characterize them, a new vecabulary would have to be invented. You have driven him into retirement because you could not use him. We submit to the peoble the one instance cited by the Record of a partisan jury having indicted republican, and we believe that to the judgement of all honest men we car safely leave the settlement of this question. Was he indicted by his ow political enemies in his own party, or by democrats?

Again the Record says: "We do not charge that juries are being used in very many cases for partisan purposes in this county."

This is in strange and startling contrast to the charges that you have been making from week to week sgainst the Circuit Court. Whipped and scourged by the truth, exposed in each instance by the court record itself. you are at last driven to a partial confession of the truth by saying that in not many instances is this the case.

Carl Henderson asserted at Crayneville that twenty or more republicans were indicted by a partisan grand jury in the Circuit Court. He got applause when he said that John Pickens summoned around republicans and he set aside democrats for the trial. But when the record was brought forward in this case, the grand jury which indicted the men referred to was shown to have been a republican grand jury, standing seven republicans and and then had him indicted in order to destroy him before the Novem- five democrats. You have attempted to arouse malice between neighbors, and yet when you Notwithstanding Judge Towery has been acquitted by a jury, a jury are driven to the last retreat, you confess to many of your slanders, and rest who heard the testimony, the court house gang continues to charge him the charge upon Towery's case. HANGMAN'S NOOSE.

Sam Hisle Hanged at Winchester For Criminal Assault.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 19.-Sam Hisle, colored, was hung this morning at 9 o'clock in the jail yard. He went to the scaffold with a firm step and without assistance. On the scaffold he said he was guilty of the crime for which he was about t suffer death, and that he freely forgave all who had part in his execution.

He asked the assistance of the officers and the white people to root out the colored dens of iniquity that had led to his ruin, and to help the colored people to a higher plane of life. His neck was broken and he died easily.

Hisle was only eighteen years old but had served a term in the penitentiary for robbery. This is the second hanging that has taken place here this year.

She dodged him the railroad track. He called to her Tolu. to come back as he only wanted something to eat; but she paid no attention to him and ran as fast as possible to a neighbor's.

A few minutes. after this occurred Mrs. Jasper Case, who lived a few hundred yards away in the other section house, and who was alone with a little three-year-old child, heard a cated by Cochran & Pickens, on Saknock on her door. The child seized a stick and did its puny best, of which the brute took no notice. He detained her for about half of an length and weighs about 7 lbs. It

As quickly as possible the alarm was given. From the description given by Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Case, it was determined that the same man had committed both offenses, and the outraged husbands took their shotguns and began the pursuit. They met Hisle in Winchester, three or four miles from the scene of the crime, and questioned him closely, but finally decided that he was not the man. The country became quickly stirred up and hundreds of people were on the watch. Mrs. Case gave Sheriff McCord a detailed description that was marvelous for its accuracy. Hisle was at once suspected leaving Los Angeles he has spent and the description sent to all nearby towns. You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develope into nervous prostration.

Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality. Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.

It is also a nerve builder: it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs.

Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine. "During the past winter I had two attacks of Lagrippe which left me very weak, and in bad condition. I was so nervous I could not sleep. My wife, after trying different remedies, went for a doctor. The doctor was out, and a neighbor recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and she brought home a bottle. I had not slept for some time, and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few coses of Nervine the pain was not so severe, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved." HENRY M. SMITH, Underhill, Vt. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your

W. B.Smith, the Financier Charged With Embezzling $50,000.00.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19 .- W. B. Smith, former precident of the Western National bank and supposed to be a fugitive, is wanted by the United States Government to answer the charge of making false entries while president of the bank, misappropriation of funds and the embezzlement of $50,000. The alleged false entries amount to $135,966.65. and the alleged misappropriation of moneys to $12,947.27.

Smith, when heard from last, was in New York. Last Saturday he wired his resignation as a director of the Western National Bank.

Ten indictments were returned this morning by the Federal grand jury, of which Jacob L. Smyser is fore-

The indictment of Smith was not unexpected; he himself had anticipated such a result and had retained former United States District attorney W. M. Smith to take charge of

There is reason to believe that the charge against Smith has to do with the alleged manipulation of funds of the bank be which he is claimed to have profited to a considerable extent Rumors to that effect have been current in circles well informed on the affairs of the bank for some little time. At one tim it was anticipated that the whole matter would be developed in a suit, but subsequent events rendered it unnecessary. It is possible that Smith's connection with a Paducah banking and trust company may figure in the development of the evidence.

Carl Henderson seems to be with out a defender. The Record has deserted him. But this, we suppose, is because they want to get rid of dead weight.

The headlines "Give Judge Tow ery an Opportunity," which appeared in the Record, is in strange contrast to the way they treated him before the primary. He was not given an opportunity then.

Senator Deboe, we see, instead of going to Ohio to engage in the Gubernatorial campaign has compromised the matter and will go to Shady Grove. What has Deboe got against Shady Grove?

The question is asked by the Record, "How is your conscience, Ollie?" We can say for him that his conscience is not one like that of the writer of the inquiry, whose conscience gives outward evidence of inward strife.

The Record says that R. L. Moore knows how to answer "present. Why, he will be busy, if you send him to the senate, getting up certificates showing that he voted some oth-Entered as second-class matter June 26th. 1879. er way than that which is recorded; at the postoffice at Marion, Ky., under the Act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879. and that, instead of answering "present" he answered "absent."

> Why does not Mr. Weldon answer the inquiry as to letting ballot printing for the coming election out to the lowest bidder? The tax-payers propound this inquiry to him. He could have saved them money by competitive bidding. He failed to do it. The taxes are hard to pay, still harder to pay.

Not so the Press for it seems that credit for being honestly mistaken neath his dignity to have Dr. Frazer endorse his claim as correct. And thereby hangs a tale. On December 10, 1904, the Press presented a bill DR. MOORE'S CHURCH for $23.50 for printing to Judge Towery, who allowed it. It coming to the knowledge of Dr. Frazer, he went to Judge Towery and showed heart, or the point of telepathy is so that some might misconstrue my mohim where the bill was illegal. The facts in the case are these: During the smallpox epidemic in this state. the PRESS received a "Smallpox Notice" from Dr. J. N. GOING HABITS well" · · · · · is otherwise engaged. -Crittenden Record.

The Record raises a very grave question when it undertakes to account for Dr. Moore's church go ing habits. The Record is entitled to its opinion and we will not dispute the explanations offered; either may be correct, although we have heard advanced other reason equally plausible. The Press has been perfectly willing to accept without question Dr. Moore's outward show of reformation, and notwithstanding the frequent references to the subject in the Record, it has considered it not a matter for public gaze, but one that should be addressed solely to Dr. Moore's conscience, regardless of any difficulties it might encounter in reaching or identifying that spot. Therefore the PRESS has refrained from discussing such a painful subject. For the present let it be conceded that Dr. Moore is a regular at tendant at church and Sunday School but "further deponent sayeth not." So far as Mr. Maxwell is concerned we merely wish to say, by way of contrast, that no man in Crittenden county is so universally loved and respected: his life, public and private, is irreproachable. He has been a great benefactor to the community, and in every church in Marion there is standing evidence of his generosity, and in every church in Marion there is a warm welcome for him and of which he avails himself at every opportunity. If the Record wants another contrast we will say that Press Maxwell's father was the largest single contributor to the building of the church to which, after it was fully completed and paid for, Dr. Moore transferred his membership. Subsequently Press Maxwell papered, painted and put in complete repair. at his own expense, the church buil ding from which Dr. Moore transferwas returned to him, and the claim boasts that Dr. Moore excels Mr.

It is a matter of dollars and cents, not politics. In all my inquiring I never met a man, old or young, democrat or republican, who did not advise me to employ O. M. Jamos. What better could I do, seeing that the taxpayers were not willing to risk me and Mr. Henderson, when so much was at stake. Then it to go with us to Frankfort to which As has been freely predicted and he consented. I gave him a county order for $50, which he cashed for $47. > Again, in 1905 I was notified by the same state board that all our property, both real and personal was raied 25 per cent, and the Record says take O. M. James again. Why did I take him? I will admit that he did did not want to go, believing, as he had the right to believe, that the Record writers did not appreciate his services. Notwithstanding this such men as James A. Moore, W. B. Yan dell, John Pickens and every member of the fiscal court, advised me to employ O. M. James if possible. Besides these gentlemen, who are mostly republicans. I also had to ask the assistance of Press Maxwell. Blue & Nunn, and many other democratic taxpayers to help me secure the services of the man of the county's choice to represent us before the state board of equalization. However, prevailed on him to go and with the same good results. I came back and other victory and the honor was justly due O. M. James.

You say that Henderson and Weldon presented such an array of facts from the records in the county clerk's office. How do you know what they presented? I want to tell you that when the case was called that O. M. James appeared before the board as a lawyer, and had me and Mr. Weldon put on the witness stand. No other witness was introduced. Mr. James personal friends, that they informed employ O. M. James. But later on him before noon that he had been sucthat another man claimed the honor of a heavy tax.

Shame on a set of men who would try to rob the gallant son of old Crittenden of the honor so justly earned. Talk to me about the pitiful sum of one hundred dollars being pulled from our county. Why do you not talk about the four thousand dollars which he saved for the county; he would have been a cheap lawyer at a one thousand dollar fee.

In answer to me last week you say the document was a weak production. That it may be; how about the attempted answer? Aftes scanning it over I came to the conclusion that it was like the young husband who was nursing his first born offspring. The little fellow was very noisy when the good little woman told him to slap the kid. He trutbfully told the good woman he could not find a place big enough. So it is with the attempted answer. It is not big enough to slap. Possibly if the writer had been closeted on Thursday with O. M. James it would have been big enough to have slapped.

The Record writer keeps intimat ing that my associates are not come mendable. I have not given this much thought. I will admit that I am on friendly terms with Press Max well, Tom Cochran, Jess Olive, John Blue, C. S. Nunn, all the Pickens and Yandells, also our present congressman, O. M. James, and last but not least, the Hon. W. J. Deboe, ex-U. S. Senator. If I have made a mistake in keeping company with these gentlemen I am ready and willing to ask your pardon.

Thanking you for calling my attention to this matter I remain.

Yours an ever, AARON TOWERY.

So far but few coats have been seen, but one never knows what pranks American weather may play, and the shop windows are hung with excellent examples of both artistic and severely plain garments. There are the usual number of devotees of the chic short effects; but, generally speaking, in three-quarter length and a trifle longer the handsomest coats are brought out.

For a practical coat semifitting models are desirable. The smartest of these are made collarless, with silk braid, velvet or embroidered bands applied in empire style.

In one scene of her new play, "Miss Dolly Dollars," now running at the Knickerbocker, the popular Lulu Glaser appears in a particularly stunning rain coat, the admiration of every woman in the audience. It is a severely tailored cravenette coat, semifitting and plaited back and front, Across the back is a buttoned strap, and about the collar and cuffs there is a becoming touch of green velvet. There is nothing strikingly unusual about its makeup. but the perfect cut and fit and the absolute style it carries with it make every woman who sees it pine and sigh for a rain coat.

For street wear one of the very newest things is the Inverness pelerine. This wrap is essentially graceful and attractive in appearance and so easily slipped on and off that its popularity is assured. The under portion of this cape is fashioned sleeveless, with openings through which the arms slip, over which the long outer cape falls in unbroken lines. In blues these wraps have a smart military effect, and in small cheeks with turnover collar of velvet they are extremely becoming. A Paris fashion authority says, "If you'd be chie and Parisian, wear blue," and certainly this color in dark, pastel and all the rich, odd tints seen in sky and water is the rage in Paris this

In evening coats light blue broadcloth is a close rival of the always elegant white, and very light champagne tints are again exceedingly fashionsble. In this latter shade a very beautiful coat in seven-eighths length was recently seen, the skirts of which round-

From the throat on either side was a soft cream crape scarf exquisitely embroidered in a Persian design, through which gold threads were scattered. This was worn loosely tied. The embroidered crape was also puffed into the bottom

HELPS TO STUDY.

Mary was a pure, good girl. She was espoused to Joseph. An espousal was a solemn marriage contract or vow, often by simple ceremonies. In spirit it bound them together as husband and wife and they could not dissolve this engagement without the ceremony of divorce, but legally they Instrumental Solo, Silver Spray were not husband and wife until the public martial day.

Gabriel seems to be the special messenger of God. The angel's salutation is very striking and impressive. This divine theophany filled Mary with awe. He calmed her fears in words of blessed assurance, He gave to her the promise for which every devout woman in Israel had been sighing. These vs. (31-33) predict of Christ those things which in Sam. 7:14; I Chr. 17:13-14; 22:10 are promised to the Son of David. These predictions would naturally be received by many of the Jews as referring to political rather than spiritual conquests, yet the more devout accepted them in their true spirutal sense. The "Son of the Most High" is an epithet for the Messiah Instrumental Solo, Mazurka and the throne of David is a spiritual throne. Again Mary's fears arose as to how this could be accomplished, but the angel assured her that the Holy Spirit would give her power to become the mother of the blessed Christ. He gave her further assurance in the prediction of the birth of John the Baptist. Mary's devout acquiescence exemplifies the humility and obedience of one who is called to fulfill a mission, exalting and enrapturing in its nature, yet associated with much that is incredible and humiliating.

Mary hastens to her cousin Elizabeth, who lived in Hebron or its vicinity, described here as the "hill country," with the joyful message the angel had given her. At the salutation of Mary, Elizabeth was filled with the Holy spirit and v. 15 was thus fulfilled. Elizabeth by the aid of the Holy Spirit, recognized Mary as the mother of the Messiah, and gave her further assurance of what the angel had said. Mary was then filled with the Holy Spirit, and, in the rapture of the moment uttered her beautiful song, a masterpiece of literature, theology and prophesy. This song of Mary, commonly known from the first word of the Latin version as the Magnificat, is expressed largely in the language of the Old Testament. is the language of humble gratitude to God and pious yet exultant joy in the thought of the heir of David's throne whose mother she was to be. Notice that vs. 46-47 state the same thought in different forms. This is a characteristic of Hebrew poetry called "parallelism." In v. 52 the two day. lines express opposite thoughts; this is called antithetic parallelism. This hymn illustrates God's Mercy toward them that fear him in lifting them, in protecting them and in fulfilling his promises made to them.

After this visit of some months Mary returned to her home at Nazareth. Her condition would naturally be humiliating to her espoused husband and awakened strange thoughts in his mind. But he was a righteous man. His righteousness would deter him, on the one side from marrying her while doubting as to her character, and, on the other, from publicly disgracing her whom he had believed to be a pure and virtuous woman. He chose to divorce her privately. In the meantime the angel stepped in and allayed all his fears. This dream vision is the complement to Joseph of the appearance of the angel to Mary. Throughout Luke's narrative Mary's experiences are prominent; throughout Matthew, the experiences of Joseph. Matthew is especially interested in the events which fulfill the Old Testament brophesy. Look them up.

When John was born the relatives and neighbors came to rejoice and wanted to call him Zacharias, after his father. Elizabeth said he must be named John, and dumb Zacharias wrote, "His name is John." Then was his tongue loosed, he was filled with the Holy Spirit and he spake forth the Benedictus, or prophesy of Zacharias. This prophetic psalm is, like that of Mary, permeated with the patriotic hope and joyful expectation of the Son of David, who should deliver Israel out of the hand of their enemies. As with the prophets of old, so here patriotism and religion are inseparably mingled. First political freedom and then national righteouness and holiness as seen in vs. 74-75.

THE MUSICALE

Given At New Auditorium in The School Building Friday Evening, October 20th, Was A Success.

Marion people have not the reputation of being music lovers, but if a stranger could have stepped into the new auditorium at the High school building last Friday night he would have bet that the love of music was not on the wane in this city, but on the contrary, the art was in a flourishing condition. The teachers in charge of the musical department of the Graded school had assembled the talent of their classes to display their progress. Mrs. Trisler and Miss Doss deserve much credit for the entertainment and the pleasure given the audience. Several older citizens assisted the pupils. The auditorium was well filled and each one that took part was duly appreciated and encored. The following was the programme. Invocation. Prof. Victor G. Hughes & Henry.

The firm of Hughes & Henry are doing some fine work now in their marble shop and yard here. Their work is being put up all over the county. A visit to their place of business this week gave us a glimpse of many fine pieces of marble work in process of completion. Last week a handsome stone was erected over the grave of John Everett Franks at Union; a beautiful monument is being carved for the wife of Wm. Arflack, of Blackford. Few people know of the extent of their business and the high grade of work done. The firm is composed of Ab. M. Henry and U. G. Hughes, two fine young men, and the Press is glad they are gatting their share of such work.

Successful Tests With Peat as Locomotive Fuel.

LUXURY ON ENGLISH TRAINS.

Valets, Ladies' Maids and Numbered Seats Among Other Conveniences. Each Crew on the Pennsylvania Lines to Have Its Special Engine. Trainmen Not to Wear Flowers.

Peat is abundantly stored in our Maine bogs, says the Lewiston Evening Journal. Androscoggin county has 5 00 enough peat to supply all Maine with 5 00 fuel for a generation. Yet we fail to his report said that if prospects had encourage intelligent efforts to develop our own resources in fuel. A number of experiments which will be of interest to many Maine men have recently been made by the Boston and Maine railroad in the use of peat fuel. So far the tests have given entire satisfaction, and now the company is pre-5 00 paring to give the new locomotive fuel a more extended trial than any hereto-1 00 fore undertaken.

The company had its attention called to the value of peat as a steaming agency some weeks ago and upon representation that it was equal to bitu-$271.45 minous coal was induced to test its qualities. These were eminently satisfying, and a carload of the material has been delivered for further experiment. The source of supply is in the town of Lewington, Mass., and it is said that this single deposit would tucky. furnish enough fuel for all the railroads entering Boston for a period of 250 years. The treatment consists in cutting out the peat in large cubes and then subjecting them to heavy pressure, which exudes all the meisture and makes the mass as compact as anthracite. In the pressing the cakes take on an elliptical shape, with an inch hole running through them, which admits of free burning. In reporting on the first experiments the officials of the road say that they found that this fuel made an exceptionally hot fire, was free from smoke and that it could be purchased for less than coal From an economical standpoint, however, the coal showed to better advantage owing to slower consumption, but the two advantages named for the peat fully offset that in favor of coal. The further tests which the company proposes making will be watched with interest, as a solution of the present smoke nuisance may be found in the general use for steaming purposes of

KENTUCKY AS DIAMOND FIELD

South African Expert Discovers Indications There of Right Deposits. David Draper, diamond expert, of Johannesburg, South Africa, passed through Pittsburg the other night for Richmond, Va. He recently returned from Elliott county, Ky., where he investigated and inspected land between Ison and Creeches creeks, says a Pittsburg correspondent of the New York World. He is the first diamond mine expert from South Africa to investigate the possibilities of finding diamonds in Kentucky-pipes, as they are called in diamond mining.

The correspondent read the report Mr. Draper made of the mines through the courtesy of W. L. McGee, one of the owners of the land. Mr. Draper in appeared on the surface in South Africa as they do in Elliott county, Ky, hundreds of thousands of dollars would have been invested in a thorough pros-

His report shows that garnets, illmenite, olivine, dopside and mica should be found in the deposits. So far reports of the finding of diamonds are legendary, but the thick growth of vegetation would preclude the possibility of finding the gems unless they were systematically searched for. Mr. Draper calls attention to the fact that some of the Transvaal mines were discovered only after twenty-five years of prospecting, although it was evident to mining experts that diamonds existed there. He compares the cost of fuel and labor in Kentucky with that of South Africa, which is in favor of Ken-

He says the total cost of thoroughly prospecting the Kentucky property would aggregate $100,000. His report states further that he would not be surprised if the pipes were laid open that larger ones would be found in Kentucky than have ever been found in South Africa; also that it would require the finding only of five carats of stones per load in Kentucky to make the mine a paying one.

The pipes he examined, he asserts, are through "Kimberlite" and of volcanic origin and should produce just as rare gems as have ever been found in the Transvaal. The Kentucky property is so situated that the earth in being removed could be readily dumped from the hill, whereas in South Africa it has to be hauled by trams and wire ropes long distances.

The earth thus dwg out is left exposed to the atmosphere from four months to a year before it is sorted out, washed and the diamonds and other minerals removed. It would require two years' work thoroughly to exploit the property for precious stones.

His report states that nowhere has be found as good indications of diamonds as in the Kentucky field. The promoters of the enterprise have bought up 22,000 acres of land sur rounding the ground which will be opened ships From Overhead. Chief of Police Collins of Chicago discovered the other night that his jurisdiction has three dimensions instead of two within which he is commonly called upon to exercise authority and maintain order, says a Chicago special dispatch to the Washington Post. In addition to length and breadth it has three miles of height, impinging to that extent upon the region above. The chief says it is all covered in an ordinance which be really could not bring himself to quote out of hand. The chief made this announcement when he was shown a telegram announcing the intention of A. Roy Knabenshue of Toledo, the aeronaut, to visit Chicago in a few days and circle about the dome of the Masonic temple in his craft. The chief was horror stricken.

CHIEF THREE MILES IN AIR

Head of Chicago Police Bars Air-

"I'm chief for three miles," he said. 'He'll have to fly high. He will not be permitted to run up that machine within the city limits and if he goes up from the outside he'll have to stay over three miles. He can't risk his life in my jurisdiction."

LION AS "FIGHTING EDITOR"

Indiana Man Training One to Take Care of Undestrable Visitors. Clarence P. Wolfe, editor of a newspaper at New Harmony, Ind., proposes to put a lion on guard in his office to be the "fighting editor" in the event of any fighting having to be done, says a New Harmony dispatch. The line is far from being tame, but Mr. Wolfe hopes he can train it to be docile as far as he is concerned.

While a circus was at New Harmony a few days ago a cage containing the lion was blown over in a storm, and the animal was badly injured. The circus manager could not take it with him, and Mr. Wolfe bought it for a mere song.

He says he will expect it to "take care" of persons who come to the office to object when the paper contains something which they do not like.

In this connection it is interesting to know that during the ten-day annual meet of the Board of Regents in the STANDARD OIL MAGNATE PRE-FOR RESTORATION OF MT. VERNON month of May a banquet is given to the Governor of Virginia. After the feast is ended and the toasts are "unk, the entire association conduct the Jovernor about the house and grounds, that he may know, by personal observation, that the pact entered into so long ago is being faithfully kept.

It is the custom of the ladies of the association to live at Mount Vernon during the yearly session. At this time the old home wears an air of unwonted gaiety. The kitchen gives out the most appetizing odors, and stimulated to unusual activity by tales of the are anxious to show their fitness for of legions of wise men, "Back to the of credit, and overproduction of securthe brick oven, a relic of colonial days, s called into use, the beautifully browned bread, pies and cakes attesting its superiority.

Thirty States Represented.

The Mount Vernon Ladies' Association is a most exclusive body. It is composed of a regent, who is president of the association, and a vice-regent from each of the States of the Union. Thirty States are now represented. The women are justly proud of the work that has been and is being accomplished, and so value their places in the council that it has become a custom for the office of vice-regent to descend from mother to daughter or other near relative. When a vacancy occurs in the council the Governor of the State is invited to nominate some prominent woman; but should the name not receive the favorable consideration of the regent and vice-regents no appointment is made until one acceptable to all is proposed.

feature of the ominous flow of people to the cities is the phenomenal development of manufactures. There may come a time when manufactures will o overbalance agriculture that there will not be enough basic wealth produced to afford a profitable market for the factory-made goods. When the industrial situation shall become so unbalanced, a commercial crash of stupendous magnitude must ensue.

As Helpless Babes.

Then the city-trained men who know not how to make bread out of the soil will clamor for work, curse the economic condition of the period, denounce the state, threaten the republic with all sorts of fantastic theories, and there will be acute friction between the few rich and the multitude of poor. Gradually men will drift back to the land and learn to make their living with the plow and reaper and a satisfactory equilibrium between agriculture and manufactures will once more be reached. Before this result is attained, there will be intense suffering. Families that are in comfortable circumstances will know the meaning of misery, and beggary. All this is not a dream. Men of clearest vision see it coming.

To the great credit of John Augustine Washington it is related that he refused absolutely to consider propositions advanced by private companies and individuals to purchase the estate, to be converted later into a pleasure resort. Think of the desecrationvaudeville performance on that magnificent stretch of lawn, waiters bearing their burdens of food and drink through those stately halls, the daily uproar of irreverent crowds.

And then came Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham, of South Carolina. She visited Mount Vernon in 1853 and was shocked and grieved at the fate in store for the historic spot. She conceived the plan of rousing the women of her beloved southland to the true state of affairs and enlisting their cooperation in the raising of a fund of $200,000, the price asked for the house. outbuildings, wharfage, garden and some two hundred acres of farmlands So she went to work, and it must be remembered that fifty years ago it took no small amount of bravery for a woman to inaugurate and carry on an undertaking of such magnitude. But after five years of effort the whole of the $200,000 was in hand. It was found impracticable to confine the propaganda to the Southern States, so the North was invited to assist, which she did in generous measure.

At the close of 1858 the Mount Ver non estate was purchased and the title passed to the Mount Vernon Ladies Association of the Union.

There should be no effort to minimize the worth of manufactures processes that work up the raw products of the earth into serviceable forms. The ores from which are obtained the metals of commerce are as much a product of the land as corn, wheat and cotton-not as primarily important, but quite as necessary to man in his present highly organized social state. Does Sugar Make Strength?

Various reasons have been assigned for the increase in stature and strength of the modern maiden, who has most certainly grown uncommonly tall and proportionately muscular during the past few years, says an English writer. It cannot be that outdoor sports, gymnastic exercise and so on, have stretched her out and made her as strong as she is, because her brothers have had precisely the same advantages, and they have not developed at the same rate. It seems to me, therefore, that the secret lies in the fact, that of recent years girls have become far greater consumers of sweetmeats than ever were their mothers and grandmothers.

Time was when we should never have dreamt of having sweets on our luncheon, dinner and tea tables. Now it would be quite extraordinary were one not to offer these dainties. GREAT CANALS OF MARS.

The Camera's Eye, More Sensitive than the Human Optic, Establishes New Data-Interesting Scientific Discoveries.

Astronomers and scientists in genmodest announcement made by Professor Percival Lowell and his partial successes and some complete failures the greater canals of the planet Mars had at last been photographed.

Hitherto the general public has been compelled to accept or to reject the existence of the Martian canals on the word of the stargazing fraternity. But with the accomplishment of the Harvard observers in Arizona everyone will now have an opportunity to see the actual photographs in proof of what has long been considered as more or less of a theory.

While several photographs were taken of the canals some weeks ago, t was not until a few days ago that the solar photographers were ready to announce the complete success of the undertaking. Professor Lowell, in the following account of the achievement, s unreserved in his belief that the Martian canals closely correspond to the familiar waterways of the same general classification on this planet,

Up to the present time human knowledge of Mars has been largely theoretical-the principal facts regarding the planet being that it is 141,500,000 miles from the sun and approximately 47,000,000 miles from earth. The Martian year has 687 days. Mars is 4230 miles in diameter, the arth being 7918, Jupiter 86,500 and the

A recent meeting of the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers at Niagara Falls brought forth a number of intersting and important facts relative to recent years in the making of all asses of farm and working implements and also the great expanse of this class of trade abroad.

American Manufacturers Foremost.

It seems that the American implement makers are a progressive set and he secret of their phenomenal sucess has been in their good organizaion and the close study they have nade of the wants of the foreign peoles. The American manufacturer has nade a study of conditions and has hus beaten the Britisher with his take it or leave it," and the German lan of making an exact imitation of he native or local implement.

The National Association of Agriultural Implement and Vehicle Manuacturers is an influential body and its naual meetings are participated in by ome of the heaviest manufacturers in he world. It takes up, in addition to ts regular business, the various broad uestions of the day as they may have ome direct or indirect bearing upon he prosperity of their industries. Among other questions discussed at the ecent meeting were the ten-hour laor day, certain phases of the tariff, he parcel post question, ship subsidy, the railroad rate question and the re eal of the land laws. The principal discussion, as noted by the daily reports, centered around the railroad rate and land law questions and parcel post, although there was, of course, no dissention to the view that everything possible should be done to expand forign trade.

Questions of Legislation.

Judge Grosscup of Chicago, who reently attained fame in his beef trust decision, acuressed the association pon the evils which he mid would reult in case the Interstate Commerce commission was vested with power to act as both prosecutor and court, as they would if they were given power to fix railroad rates. He took strong ground against all rebates and discriminations and declared that it would be wise to replace the present machinery by a government bureau empowered to nvestigate all complaints, with a court of transportation to adjudge the various points raised.

Resolutions were adopted embodying this idea.

The association also indorsed the re port of President Roosevelt's Public Land Commission, advising the repeal of the Timber and Stone Act and changes in the Desert Land Act, and the Commutation Clause of the Home stead Act to prevent land frauds. The interest of the association in this mat ter and in the government irrigation work is active, since irrigation and home building on millions of acres of Western lands will furnish an unpar alleled market.

The proposed parcel post legislation came in for a scoring as being inimical to independent manufacture and destroyer of the thousands of retail and even wholesale dealers throughout the country with whom the farmers do business directly and tending to further concentrate manufactures in a few great centers, and create monopolies.

The Marriage Contract a Complicated Document.

Many peculiar customs exist among the Kwaklute-Indians who live along the coast of British Columbia. These Indians are divided into numerous tribes or clans, entry into one of which is obtained only through most exacting laws. Marriage among them is considered a purchase which is conducted on sound business principles. But the object sought is not only the woman, but also the right of membership in her clan for the future children of the couple. The privileges of the the great progress which has been made in recent years in the making of all them by paying a certain amount of property for his wife. The wife is given to him as a first fasted ment of the return payment. The crest of the cian, its privileges, and a considamount of other property besides, are given later on, when the couple have children, and the rate of interest paid by the wife's tribe increases with the number of children. For one child 200 per cent. of interest is paid; for two or more children, 300 per cent. After the entire payment is made the marriage is annulled, because the wife's father has redcemed his daughter. If she continues to stay with her husband, she does so of her own free will. Oftentimes, however, to avoid complications, the husband makes a new payment to his fatherin-law in order to have a claim to his

A RATTLER STORY.

Where a Miss Was as Good as a Mile.

"Being no devotee of hunting, I seldom carried anything but my revelver, while my partner, an enthusiast for any game from bear to poker, great or small, as I was the reverse, seldem stirred from the tent without his double-barrelled shotgun," said the old imer from Nevada.

"As small game was fairly plenty in that part of the Sierras Jim generally ook the right-of-way, lest it might be rightened away before he had an oportunity to shoot. This afternoon owever, we were merely going a short distance up the mountain back of our tent to see that our horses had not strayed too far. The gun was taken as a matter of habit, but the prospect of meeting anything for 'Jim' to shoot was so slight that I pushed on shead and was climbing the steep mountain side, my body inclined far forward with my head naturally but a short distance from the ground.

"A sudden sharp gun shot report roared in my ear, and I felt the wind of the blast as the charge almost grazed my cheek.

"'Devilish careless, Jim.' I said, angrily as I wheeled around. 'Don't make game of your best friends with out at least a slight warning, and ion't fear but that after such a starting hint I'll always let you take the ead, though not even a chipmunk is in

"The color rushed from my face and was succeeded by a blush of shame as im quietly pointed to the mangled ody of a six-foot rattler, whose head had been shattered into a shapeless

"'Well,' said Jim, smiling good naturedly, 'your two heads were about wo feet apart. A bit too close, I hought.

How An Innocent Man was Suspected.

A little story was told at the New Willard Hotel in Washington the other day by a New Yorker who was traveling on a Pullman car between St. Louis and his home, which goes to show the danger of convicting a man on circumstantial evidence. The principal figure in this incident was not con-victed, but had it not been for a for-tuitous circumstance it might have gone hard with him.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLAR BILLS.

"It seems that one of the occupants of the car on getting out of his berth to dress missed his vest, which was a rather serious affair, inasmuch as it contained in an inside pocket a roll of money which consisted of six brandnew $100 bills. new $100 bills.

One man stood out flercely and indignantly against it, and said that he would never consent to such an indignity, but would appose it with all the force he could employ.

"This man was at once an object of suspicion, and many whispers directed at him went around. Every other individual aboard voluntarily submitted to being searched, yet nothing was seen of the solen bills. At this point some amateur Sherlock Holmes cornered the porter, and by adroit questions and threats made that rascally employe own up to the heft, and also made him disgorge $600 in handsome notes that appeared to be right from the Printing Bureau. The owner of the money was overjoyed and all hands congratulated him on recovering his money.
"About this time the obdurate gen-Positively there was no way of telling them from the bills that had been recovered. Then we all knew why he had declined to be investigated."

The loss of a young brave could not be allowed to interfere with so important an event as the marriage choice, and from most of their minds he had vanished. exception through the country willows are planted from 9 inches to a foot apart in rows 21/2 feet to a yard distant from one another, thus allowing from about 14,000 to 23,000 to the acre. This method of wide planting is followed for several reasons, it of course being cheaper to plant fewer cuttings, and the cost of cultivation being reduced, the wide rows allowing for the use of a plow. It is also understood and held by the higher authorities that the more shoots from a stool or stump, the greater the yield. Where the cuttings have been planted on meadow or corn land, the first year the rows are hoed two or three times. and later run through with a light plow. In later years only the plow is used. On bottomland, however, they are only cultivated once, and therefore only grassed with a sickle.

To Produce Straight Rods.

The Department of Agriculture has found that though there may be objection to close planting on account of increased cost and greater amount of cultivation necessary, both a heavier yield and longer, more evensized and better rods are obtainedstraighter, less branchy, and less ta-pering. While a yield of four tonc of green rods per acre may be obtained in twelve years where the holts are planted in rows three feet apart, with a distance of one foot between holts, over six tons are obtained from an acre planted 29x9 inches, in only ten years. Secretary Root's acceptance of the trust would enable Secretary Taft to devote more of his time to the con sideration of important questions af fecting the government of the Philip pines and the business of the army generally. It is known that Secretary Taft has no personal ambitions in connection with the Panama canal work, and is entirely willing, as a matter of general expediency, that its supervision should be transferred to Secretary Root as the head of the State Department.

Secretary Root, however, with all his ability for hard work, is under-stood to have no hankering after the canal job.

exception through the country willows are planted from 9 inches to a foot apart in rows 21/2 feet to a yard distant from one another, thus allowing from about 14,000 to 23,000 to the acre. This method of wide planting is followed for several reasons, it of course being cheaper to plant fewer cuttings, and the cost of cultivation being reduced, the wide rows allowing for the use of a plow. It is also understood and held by the higher authorities that the more shoots from a stool or stump, the greater the yield. Where the cuttings have been planted on meadow or corn land, the first year the rows are hoed two or three times. and later run through with a light plow. In later years only the plow is used. On bottomland, however, they are only cultivated once, and therefore only grassed with a sickle,

CONTROL OF CANAL MATTERS.

Transfer to the State Department Under Secretary Root.

It seems to be generally accepted that the control of all matters in connection with the construction of the Panama canal is to be transferred from the War Department to the State Department. portionate share of the government work and responsibility, and it is with a view of relieving him of a portion of his official burdens that the President suggested the advisability of the transfer of the Panama Canal work to the State Department.

Secretary Root's acceptance of the trust would enable Secretary Taft to devote more of his time to the consideration of important questions affecting the government of the Philippines and the business of the army generally. It is known that Secretary Taft has no personal ambitions in connection with the Panama canal work, and is entirely willing, as a matter of general expediency, that its supervision should be transferred to Secretary Root as the head of the State Department.

Secretary Root, however, with all his ability for hard work, is understood to have no hankering after the
